

Titchfield Gardeners' Club Data Protection Policy

Due to the current General Data Protection Regulations we wish to clarify our Policy with regard to the use of your data.

We understand that your personal data is private and take this seriously.

On applying for, or renewing, Club membership all members are asked for their name, address, e-mail address and telephone number. These records are kept by our Membership Secretary only. Most communications to members are now by e mail, however, in some instances (such as the organisation of outings, social functions) other Committee members and our Mailchimp Administrator may need such information and will ask the Membership Secretary for the information where necessary.

We will not share your personal data with any third-party organisations nor with any members of the club, apart from the Committee and our Mailchimp Administrator, unless you have given your express consent to do so.

Membership information will be deleted by the Membership Secretary in the event of a member's resignation or three months after any lapsed renewal for membership.
